

wine + spirits

'Joie de vivre' is a French phrase which literally (or superficially) means 'joyful living.' However it is the underlying spirit of the phrase which eludes translation and, all too often, our lives. Today we have a bewildering array of choices when it comes to food + drink, and it is not simply a matter of deciding what to eat or drink. Taking wine as an example, we may also consider other important criteria such as: how it was made, who made it, where were the grapes grown, and when was it made (the vintage). Now while the answers to these questions may help us decide on a particular selection, they are all in the realm of the cerebral—not the sensual. The point is that the spirit of Joie de vivre lies not in our knowledge of technical data about food + drink, but rather in the sating of a thirst or hunger. Moreover eating and drinking are two of life's essential pleasures—visceral not cerebral. This list and our staff are here to thoughtfully guide you through the how, who, where, and when's of your decision making, but always keep in mind that the reason why is because a great cocktail or bottle of wine will allow a bit of the elusive sprit of joyful living to be captured within you.

2004 Belle ÉpoqueSparkle + Shine

Perrier-Jouët

This charming Champagne is the ideal expression of Perrier-Jouët's iconic style: floral, stylish with diamond-cut focus. The Belle Époque brut highlights the Grand Cru Chardonnays of the Côtes des Blancs, which are blended harmoniously with Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier to produce a wine with subtle complexity and constraint. Make your celebration sparkle with a glass (or bottle) of Belle Époque.

2003 Dom Pérignona taste of opulence

Moët & Chandon

The legend of Dom Pérignon began nearly 400 years ago when an industrious monk named Pierre took up residence amongst the vineyard lands of Champagne. Did he invent Champagne? He in all probability spent most of his energies attempting to keep the bubbles out of his wine. That said, there are still those who will argue whether or not he was the first person to make bubbly wine (on purpose). In any case there is no doubt that he was a forerunner in developing what we today consider a modern approach toward viticulture, and for that alone wine lovers everywhere owe him a debt of gratitude. We are delighted to offer the 2003 vintage of Pierre's namesake Champagne. Raise a glass not only in celebration, but also to the legendary achievements of Dom Pérignon, whatever they might (or might not) have been.

The two general expressions (or personas) of wine are coarsely referred to as Old-World and New-World. Now, with all due respect to espousers of Old-World tradition the world of wine (like the world itself) is in constant motion and ever changing. These changes have been ongoing for thousands of years, and are certain to continue for as long as wine is enjoyed. The transplantation of varieties from the Old-World (Europe + The Mediterranean Basin) to the New-World (The Americas, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand) is perhaps the most visible example of change in the wine world.

Most wine professionals look to the Old-World as the established home, and hence expression, of traditional wine-grape varieties. However many of these varieties have been brought to the New-World with great success. The point here is that while these varieties, and their resulting wines, will be different than their Old-World cousins, they still have the potential for showing themselves to have unique voices which express quality, balance, subtlety and the pièce de résistance—terroir. Listed below are several uncommon expressions of New-World wines made from varieties which are more commonly heard speaking with Old-World voices. The joy we receive from the simple pleasure of drinking wine will only be heightened if we open ourselves up to all of the multifarious expressions with which wine speaks—old and new.
